

CLAIM AMENDMENTS:

1 - 5 (Cancelled)

6. (Currently Amended) A smoker's pouch for carrying material capable of being smoked, the pouch formed from multiple layers of material and having at least a first and a second compartment, the first compartment formed between adjacent layers of material and the second compartment formed between two portions of the pouch overlapping due to a fold in the pouch, the fold in the pouch defined by a hinge line such that said first and second compartments possess substantially the same dimensions wherein at least one of said compartments is releasably sealable to retain material capable of being smoked or smoking accoutrements in the compartment; ~~and the pouch is formed from multiple layers of material and the compartments are formed between adjacent layers of material.~~

7. (Currently Amended) The smoker's pouch according to claim 6, wherein the at least one said compartment is sealed by a seal, the seal comprising respective formations associated with adjacent layers of material forming the pouch, the respective formations engageable with each other to releasably seal the at least one said compartment.

8. (Previously Presented) The smoker's pouch according to claim 7, wherein the seal comprises a first formation and a second formation, the first formation having a female channel with resilient sidewalls, at least one sidewall having a flange on an upper portion, the flange extending at least partially toward the opposing sidewall and the second formation having a male member with an enlarged portion receivable between the opposed sidewalls of the channel and adapted to be retained therein until the application of a force large enough to release the male member therefrom.